

Fiona Organic

The Organic wallpaper collection is motivated by nature's soft interlacing organic shapes.

The collection inspires creativity with its variety of motives in different shapes and sizes. You can splash large flowers on the wall in a single length, or maybe even let the whole room blossom, or you may choose a more discrete pattern.

The underlying colours are subtle pastels and dark Nordic nuances which, when combined with the vibrant colours, create a surprisingly dynamic result. The more daring colours are born from a sophisticated interpretation of contemporary international influences. The glossy effects in the collection can make a whole wall come alive with vibrant subtlety.

The wallpapers are manufactured using surface printing method. Surface print offers distinctive layers of colours, giving the impression of a hand-painted effect.

Fiona Organic is produced on a non woven substrate, that neither shrinks nor expands. This makes the hanging so much easier than by traditional wallpaper, as you can paste the wall. You roll the adhesive onto the wall, apply the dry lengths and trim at the top and bottom. New beautiful walls in half the time – easy, clean and quick.

Fiona was established in 1897, in the south of Funen, Denmark. Our Designer, Elsa Kirstine Krogh, heads the development of the wallpaper collections and with her vast technical experience and fine aesthetical sense, she is constantly challenging and developing Scandinavian wallpaper designs

With attention to detail and ever increasing ambitions, the policy of Fiona is to always use the best raw materials available. All the products have been E-approved, guaranteeing an environmentally friendly product. Fiona is always conscious of the environment, both with regards to production and the end product.
